May's Theme: Preparing for a Performance

With the recital right around the corner, this is a great time to learn about the final stages in preparing for the performance. Some topics we will be discussing are:

- Ways to make your memory secure
- What to do if you make a mistake
- Performance etiquette
- Visualization techniques
- Dress rehearsals

Here are some things you should do at home in the days leading up to the recital:

- 1.) Play/sing your pieces/songs for other people as much as you can. The more you do this, the more confident you will become.
- 2.) Practice your music differently. Sometimes playing/singing in a tempo that is slower or faster than what you normally practice will reveal sections that should be looked at more carefully. You could also vary the dynamics.
- 3.) Visualize the kind of performance you want to have. Imagine yourself playing/singing in a performance that is going incredibly well.

Voice Recital at the Meadow's Nursing Home

Four voice students performed for the residents of the Meadow's Nursing Home on Saturday, May 6, 2017. They sang several songs from a variety of musicals including Hairspray, 13, Seussical, Addams Family, Annie Get Your Gun, Shrek, and more.
